PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1947 will be remembered as a class of varied characteristics. Your class is the first to have Ex-Service Men enrolled as graduates. This class has felt the full force of the strain of war, as well as the difficult situation brought about by an acute shortage in teaching personnel. As freshmen in the fall of 1943, our nation was in the titantic struggle with the forces of Hitler and the Japanese war lords. As you graduate in the spring of 1947, our nation is going through a most difficult period of readjustment.

The world you will know will be different from the world of yesterday. Intelligence and consecrated devotion to high ideals will be demanded of you. More than ever will man need to really think. The postwar era will present many fabulous opportunities to mount a social and economic merry go round which leads to nowhere. There will also be many real opportunities to render service of lasting value. It will be your task to clearly think through the different and difficult situations confronting you. One of the lessons, I trust, you have learned in your school career is the power to think and analyze a difficult situation. This trait will certainly be needed in the years ahead.

You will carry with you our best wishes in whatever situation you find yourselves.

" 'Tis life, whereof our nerves are scant,
Oh life, not death, for which we pant;
More life, and fuller, that I want."—Tennyson.

DEDICATION

MISS MATTIE GAINEY

SEVERAL years ago we were fortunate in having a woman come to our school as Math Teacher, who proved to be a friend to all of us and who was ready to listen to our troubles as well as our triumphs. In her, each member of the student body felt as if he had a helper to give advice and offer suggestions that would help him out of his difficulties.

To Miss Mattie L. Gainey, for her faithful efforts in classroom teaching, we dedicate this Volume of the TATLER.

SENIOR CLASS 1947.

SENIOR CLASS SONG

Tonight we leave Benson High
With memories we hold dear.
And as we strive to win our future goals
We will not fear.
We'll not forget the happiness here at school
Nor all the love and guidance shown us by our teachers.
A great love will never be;
The war has ended and peace has come again to the world,
We have endured the sacrifice with grace and loyalty.
We leave our Alma Mater with kindest thoughts, and take our place with those whose purpose is,
To honor those they love and also to save all mankind.

HISTORY OF CLASS

When we as freshmen entered high school four years ago, we had to adjust curselves to many changes in our school life. The three minutes allowed us between classes to get to our rocms seemed almost unreasonable, and it was quite awhile before the halls were clear of late students going to their classes.

Our homeroom teacher was Mrs. S. Nordon, a small but determined teacher. Our genius that year was Katharine Gaskins, who won the prize, awarded by Mr. Whittington for making the best grades in the freshman class.

Another school year gave us the pride of saying we were sophomores. Our subjects that year were more complicated especially algebra; but with coöperation and hard work with our teacher, Miss Gainey, who also was our homeroom teacher, we managed to pull through.

Our gem of our sophcmore class was Margaret Vaughan, who won the prize as the best all around girl.

In 1945 we entered our Junior year with a class of only twenty-seven students. Many of the friends entering high school with us had enlisted in service and others had married.

Although ours was a small class, having Miss Gainey again for our homeroom teacher helped us to obtain our spotlight in the activities of Benson High.

The outstanding event during our Junior year was the Junior-Senior banquet, an occasion, which I'm sure all present thoroughly enjoyed.

The Junior winning the Whittington prize for showing greatest improvement in grades and sportsmanship was Ermaline Register.

At last: our Senior year with only a few months until we have accomplished our goal. For our homeroom teacher we have one of the very best, Miss M. Lassiter, whom I'm sure we will never forget

A day to be remembered was Senior day at Chapel Hill. True to custom, it rained that day but in spite of getting wet we had a very nice time.

Ermaline Register.

CLASS POEM

By Laynell Penny

As we reach the end
Of our Senior year,
We think of the things
That we hold so dear.

First of all, our teachers,
To them we owe many debts,
For their patience and kindness
And examples they have set.

Next, our parents
Who are waiting to see
What examples we will follow
And what we will be.

And now, our classmates
Of whom we are very fond.
But soon we must part
And think of the years beyond.

From these halls we'll soon depart
And now we say good-bye
But we'll never forget the memories
Of old Benson High.

To the future we'll look
For the things of the best,
In God we will trust
For our happiness and success.

JUST IMAGINE:

Anyone not making below a "2" on general science. Gerry Wheeler not looking up when she hears a certain Chrysler blow. A day passing without Jessie Barbour telling a joke. Eloise Pleasant not blushing when a certain boy is mentioned in class. Mr. Boyd having a quiet science class fifth period. Rosalie Denning missing a day without going up town after school. Paul Johnson, Jr., not inquiring about a certain senior girl when she is absent. Annie Ruth Sorrell liking White's ice cream. W. D. Stephenson as the bride and L. H. Parrish the groom in a womanless wedding. Marguerite Tart without her witty ways. J. E. Johnson with a guilty look. L. H. Parrish not sending notes across the room this year. Delores Stewart's one man policy.

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IF:

Laynelle Penny missed the Honor Roll a month? Mr. Barefoot failed to give any homework in Economics? Paul Jr.'s strip down completely broken down? We had no drug store? Ermaline Register couldn't get library books to read? Catherine Gaskins missed a day of school? Ernestine Parrish missed seeing Bus No. 19 come in, in the morning? Miss Lassiter left Benson?

TATLER STAFF

Benton Stephenson, Assistant Business Manager; Kyle Stephenson, Advertising Manager.

PROPHECY

Jessie Belle Barbour who was always so alert is employed in the Drug Store as a soda jerk.

Iva Lee Beasley never saw a moment that was sad, has now become a wife which isn't at all bad.

J. B. Benton who was our newspaper boy, now is an editor which is his joy.

Carol Byrd, the president of the class, is being wanted by a cute little lass.

We knew Edna Coats as a basketball player, now in her own universe she's much gayer.

James Vance Creech who worked at the theater, now has shows of which he is the creator.

Rosalie Denning the prettiest in the school, isn't going to be anybody's fool.

Harmon Dixon a dentist always his aim, is now killing and drilling, oh, what a shame!

Catherine Gaskins with a desire to be a beautician, is skilled and thrilled as a musician.

J. E. Johnson a successful business man, for his children is making all the money he possibly can.

Paul Johnson, Jr., a prosperous millionaire, sits back with his champagne without any care.

Charles Levinson as neat as can be had as a lawyer is arguing like mad.

Virginia McLamb a business course her choice, now as a stenographer works with dignity and poise.

Henry Morgan is a well known person in the bank, because he holds the highest rank.

Earnestine Parrish with her desire now lives in a little white house on a curve.

L. H. Parrish, as industrious as anyone can be, sells autos and happy is he.

Roy Penny, who's a driver of the school bus number fourteen, has now left Benson and is nowhere to be seen.

Eloise Pleasant, as cute as can be has won her way in the world and joyous is she.

Ruth Raynor, who always wanted to be a good wife, now has the ambition of her life.

Ermaline Register, a person who liked to read books, now is living a life which has no crooks.

We remember Mary Rose Smith as a very neat girl, her job as a seamstress today keeps her in a whirl.

Annie Ruth Sorrell with a desire to be a nurse contents herself writing prose and verse.

Delores Stewart so frisky and fine always had a definite line.

Benton Stephenson with all his pep and cheer, has graduated from State as an engineer.

Kyle Stephenson, sincere, loyal, and true is hardly ever in the blue.

W. D. Stephenson whom his classmates knew as Dub, has made a great success in life without hitting a stub.

Marguerite Tart the wittiest of the class, is working at a station pumping up gas.

Geraldine Wheeler not at all shy, she's now in Washington with the FBI.

The only jewelry man from our class Jene Wheeler has a store up town and repairs watches galore.

Earlene Whittington, who was a saleswoman of knives, now is the happiest of all the wives.

DREAMS
VISIONS created by the imagination precede the achievement of any really great accomplishment. The ability to weave the threads of imagination into the finished fabric is equally important.
It has been the privilege of the EDWARDS & BROUGHTON COMPANY to cooperate with the staff in creating their vision into material form.
Such coöperation is one of the "visions" which precede the building of a successful business, and is a part of the working policy of the EDWARDS & BROUGHTON COMPANY.
To those Staffs desiring complete cooperation, we offer unexcelled service.
